Centrist Voting Record

Congressman Altmire is consistently rated as one of Congress' most independent members. In fact, Congressional Quarterly Weekly – a non-partisan, Capitol Hill publication – recently identified Congressman Altmire as having one of the most independent voting records in Congress in 2009.

National Journal --another non-partisan publication -- found that Congressman Altmire's voting record in 2009 was more conservative than 53.5 percent of House Members', placing him to the right of center. For more information, click here .

Perfect Attendance

Congressman Altmire is the only member of the House who has never missed a vote during the past two sessions of Congress. He has cast more than 3,000 consecutive votes since being sworn-in to the House in 2007. You can look at each one of Congressman Altmire's votes by going to www.thomas.gov
.