

Centrist Voting Record

Congressman Altmire is consistently rated as one of Congress' most independent members. In fact, Congressional Quarterly – a non-partisan publication – has identified Congressman Altmire as having one of the most independent voting records in Congress.

National Journal -- another non-partisan publication -- found that Congressman Altmire's voting record in 2010 was more conservative than 54.2 percent of House Members', placing him to the right of center. For more information, click here .

Congressman Altmire has cast more than 4,700 votes since being sworn-in to the House in 2007. You can look at each one of Congressman Altmire's votes by going to www.thomas.gov .